There seemed to be Padatoo, who looked after us all of the village, and Pipeet, my tour guide on my trip around northern Thailand. Both had the quirky Thai a sense of humour that we came to like (although I still can't get Pipeet's elephant song out of my head as he sang it at every opportunity). And both were among one of the most generous and caring people I have ever met, a trait I came upon many times while in Thailand. Just one of the most touching moments in the trip the visit the refugee camp for hilltribe families escaping persecution in Burma. From the Pipeet, with two kids in his arms, close to tears as he explained their current undesirable situation. Pipeet himself has three kids of his own and props up education of four more as well as frequently volunteering at his local orphanage.

The most beneficial word within a sales letter is "you". Never start a letter with "I" because chances always be reader won't get towards second word thats.
