There is a method to fix shower leaks by injecting epoxy together with floor on the shower. The injected epoxy forms a waterproof layer under the Tile Regrouting shower floor. I've met that injecting epoxy evenly under the shower floor could stop a problem. But I worry that you do not know where the epoxy actually is going. If epoxy runs toward the shower drain under the floor, the pan won't drain properly and you might not know getting this done. Any structural problems caused by leaks aren't fixed too.
